Poetry Out Loud: County Recitation Contest For High School Students

An exciting program taking place in high schools throughout California!

Winners can advance to a State and a National Competition!

Open to all public and private schools, the program encourages high school students to learn about great poetry through memorization and performance, helping students master public speaking skills, build self-confidence, and appreciate the art of poetry. This activity also supports the Common Core English Language Arts Standards.

Registration Deadline: November 22, 2019
